

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Electoral, Tuesday, November 3, 1894

FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES G. BLAINE,
OF MAINE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JOHN A. LOGAN,
OF ILLINOIS.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

At Large—J. L. MYER,
At Large—J. A. BOWEN.

First District—J. W. OSTRANDER.
Second District—G. VAN DUSEN.
Third District—JOHN HARRIS.
Fourth District—JOHN HARRIS.
Fifth District—W. W. ASHBY.
Sixth District—B. T. ROSS.
Seventh District—W. M. FOGG.
Eighth District—CARL ANDERSON.
Ninth District—L. L. BROWN.

The reason why P. T. Barnum refuses to support Cleveland, is that he knows an animal when he is painted.

The bureau of deflation of character managed in New York by the democratic national committee, is in full operation day and night.

With Blaine as president there will be a new south—new in enterprise, hope, political morals, and industrial energy. New, also, in favoring a free ballot and a fair count.

Handicaps has done nothing in this campaign which has attracted so much attention as the sitting on a stool at a railway depot in Ohio the other day and denouncing an eating house sandwich. Some men have queer ways of doing great things.

The democrats seem to be unfortunate in their selection of campaign helpers. Eight years ago they had Cronin and the other dispatches. Four years ago they had Hadley and the forged Morley letter. This year they have hired Mulligan and Fisher.

We wish to call the attention of Burr Robbins to the opportunity which will soon present itself of obtaining a rare assortment of living ontologies at a low figure. They consist of Henri Waterson's Star-eyed Goddess of Infamy, Burum's seven matles, and the Buffalo issue. Prices and terms can be obtained at the national democratic headquarters.

There are 7,008,000 women in England and Wales engaged as wage-earners. Of this number 65,000 are engaged in coal-mining, clay working, and the manufacture of iron and steel. In the United States there are only 650,000 women engaged as wage-earners. This is the difference between free trade and protection. Protection helps the home and therefore helps woman.

Barnum's democratic national committee is very much cast down after having taken a sober view of the situation in Ohio. The committee gave up the state several days ago. An agent of the committee was sent through the state and when he returned to New York he said: "A few days ago we would have been contented had the republicans carried the state by 5000 majority. The indications now are that the republicans are liable to win even by 15,000 or 20,000, and the result of such a deluge no one can foretell."

Out in Colorado, a man recently died who was somewhat widely known by the beautiful and euphonious name of "Chuk" Smith. When he was buried his local paper thus described a little mishap at the funeral: The remains were transported to the grave in first-class style in Joe Biglin's best hearse. Unfortunately, before the cemetery was reached, the horses took fright and ran away. The hearse was overturned, and Mr. Smith was spilled out of his coffin, sustaining a compound fracture of the arm. It was lucky for Joe Biglin that poor "Chuk" was not alive, as in that case he would certainly have claimed heavy damages.

Here is one of the many reasons why General Logan is popular. An old army officer explains the upsurging of the masses for "Black Jack," and here it is: "I wonder if any body for-gets that Logan was the only volunteer soldier who ever commanded an army of three corps: that in his command were 50,000 men from Ohio, 20,000 from Indiana; 100,000 from Illinois; 15,000 from Michigan; 10,000 from Wisconsin; 5,000 from Minnesota; 10,000 from Missouri; and 5,000 from Kansas and Nebraska? These veterans form the bone and marrow of the army, and with their sons now voters, join to make the crowds that greet him everywhere, and are proud of the opportunity to place him in the position next highest in the gift of the American people."

There is something in a straw after all. It was claimed that when Carl Schurz spoke in Milwaukee he drew all the German republicans to Cleveland. This was the democratic boast; but last Monday a train of nine cars from Milwaukee for Chicago was filled with passengers, nearly all of them Milwaukee Germans, bound for the St. Louis fair. Mr. W. H. Jacobs, of Brandon, happened to be on the train, and he saw a fierce democrat get into a dispute regarding the political sentiments of the Milwaukee Germans, the democrat claiming that all of them were Cleveland men. The dispute resulted in a bawler that a vote be taken of all the voters on the train as a test of their politics. The two canvassed the train together, and the result was as follows:

For Blaine..... 93
For Cleveland..... 10
For Bryan..... 10
For Foster..... 10
For McKinley..... 10
For Sherman..... 10
For Tilden..... 10
For Weaver..... 10
For Wilson..... 10
For Wood..... 10
For Zerkow..... 10
For others..... 10

The editor of the Providence Evening News propounds two simple questions to Mr. George William Curtis which that gentleman should have no difficulty in answering promptly, and are as follows:

"Did you not, Mr. Curtis, immediately after Blaine was nominated, send a telegram to friends advising them to support the nomination?"

"When Mr. Harper announced, through the columns of Harper's Weekly, that that journal would not support the republican ticket were you not as greatly surprised as the readers of the paper were?"

The refusal of Mr. Curtis to answer these plain questions is another proof that the Harper's would not have turned their nasty mud-machine on Blaine if the latter had given his back to the Harper's for publication. It also suggests that Mr. Curtis would rather receive the salary of $7,500 for editing Harper's Weekly and sacrifice his independence and manhood, than to lose his position and thereby defend his manhood and do justice to the republican candidate.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

The following list of candidates for congress in the nine districts in this state:

First district—Republican, Lucien B. Caswell, of Jefferson; democrat, Ernest Merton, of Daring; prohibitionist, Robert Fergus, of Jefferson.

Second district—Republican, Sam. S. Harney, of Wisconsin; democrat, Edward S. Briggs, of Fond du Lac; prohibitionist, T. J. Fathen, of Fond du Lac.

Third district—Republican, Robert M. La Follette, of Dane; democrat, Barr W. Jones, of Dane; prohibitionist, John M. Olin, of Dane.

Fourth district—Republican, Isaac W. Van Schaick; democrat, Peter V. Deaster; prohibitionist, William Miller, of Calumet.

Fifth district—Republican, Charles Lullag, of Manitowish; democrat, Joseph Kautz, of Manitowish; prohibitionist, William Miller, of Calumet.

Sixth district—Republican, Richard Guehner, of Waukegan; democrat, Augustus L. Smith, of Oshkosh; prohibitionist, John J. Saken, of Oshkosh.

Seventh district—Republican, Ormsby B. Thomas, of Crawford; democrat, Gilbert M. Woodward, of La Crosse; prohibitionist, L. B. Locome, of Kaukauna.

Eighth district—Republican (backed by the prohibitionists), William F. Price, of Jackson; democrat, Lars R. Larson, of Eau Claire.

Ninth district—Republican, Isaac Stephenson, of Marinette; democrat, James Meeker, of Portage; prohibitionist, A. J. Smith, Portage.

The present Wisconsin delegation in congress consists of six democrats and three republicans, but for the next congress the political complexion of the delegation will be turned around, and will stand six republicans and three democrats, the republicans reclaiming the First, Third, and Seventh districts. Several other states touched by the political cyclone two years ago, when thousands of republicans lost their senses, will do better this year, and the aggregate gains will give the house to the republicans.

A FACT TO REMEMBER.

Any man who has any sort of interest in the welfare of the country should not forget what Speaker Sheard, of Pennsylvania, tells how an English manufacturer said, "if we in Bedford were sure that we could elect a free-trade democratic president, we could raise from one to two millions of dollars." Mr. Sheard relates how last winter when the weavers employed by Fairfax, Kelley & Co., of Heckmondwike, England, demanded an advance in their miserable wages the firm refused the weavers' committee well, and promised that if the Morrison bill passed the congress of the United States they would advance wages 10 per cent. Morrison, whose bill these English manufacturers wanted passed, wrote the democratic platform adopted at Chicago.

Just what business this country has to do in supporting the ill-paid laborer of England, will be difficult for the democratic party to explain. The best interests of this country should be the first consideration of the parties, but it is not so with the democracy.

When English manufacturing firms are willing to contribute hundreds of thousands of dollars to the democratic campaign fund that Cleveland may be elected and the tariff system broken up, it is time for the voters of this country to seriously consider what this means. England wants to close up the manufacturing interests of this country, or to cripple them that they will be profitable, in order that its own wares will find a market in the United States. This would be a good thing for England but death for this country.

Under these circumstances, a working man who will vote the democratic ticket—understanding what that vote means and what its effect would be—would be betraying the faculty of the dance or the insanity of the suicide.

WHY THEY WON'T SUPPORT HIM.

"Neither by experience, ability nor character is Governor Cleveland fitted for the presidency of the nation, or qualified to support of independent and conscientious voters."

This is the language of a portion of the address just issued by the Young Men's republican club of New York. It is the club which bolted Folger two years ago, and gave its support to Mr. Cleveland. When Mr. Blaine was nominated, the club, which is a great power in the city politics of New York, did not at first endorse him. When Mr. Cleveland was nominated it appointed a committee to investigate the official and the private life of the governor of New York. The committee made a thorough examination, presented a written report, and the Gazette quotes the concluding sentence of the report.

The committee found that the "reform" governor had disapproved no less every measure of reform which passed the New York legislature. It was found that he was absolutely under the control of the machine power of the democratic party of the state of New York. Cleveland as a reformer is as big a humbug as Cleveland the statesman. The charges brought against Cleveland are many and serious. Among the numerous reasons why the Young Men's republican club won't support him is this:

There was passed by the legislature a reform bill known as the "Tenure of office bill." This was passed to remedy the evil arising from the condition of the law which enables the present mayor of New York city, two or three weeks from his own retirement from office, to name a commissioner of public works and a corporation counsel, to hold over until May 1, 1895—during the terms of his two successors. The New York Tribune, Times, Evening Post, Herald, Commercial Advertiser and other metropolitan journals favored this reform. Cleveland refused to sign the bill, in order to protect the present corrupt commissioner, Hubert O. Thompson, in his office, in return for his support of the presidential ambition of the governor.

What the Young Men's republican club of New York has decided to do, is the course determined by the majority of the votes of this country.

Political Points.
Blaine and Logan are expected at Bloomington, Ill., about the 25th inst.
Gen. Butler spoke to 3,000 people at Bay City, Mich., Wednesday. Governor Bagley was with him.
Congressman Swearing at Hicksville, Ohio, Wednesday night.
Congressman Adams, of the Fourth Illinois (Chicago) district, has declined his Democratic opponent Algood's challenge for a second term.
Ex-Governor Kirkwood, of Iowa, and others spoke to a big turnout of Republicans at Preppert, Ill., Wednesday. A procession of trades and industries was a feature of the celebration.
There were rival political demonstrations surpassing anything ever seen before, held in Big Rapids, Mich., Tuesday night. Republicans and Democrats were the competitors, and the enthusiasm was wild.
The national Republican committee has issued a circular asserting that the Demoon relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her of her cough, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good sleep for thirty years."

BRIEFINGS.

October 9th, 1884—the first general election of the season.

Mr. A. S. Lee has adopted concrete for sidewalks, and is putting it down at his residence on Linn and School streets Fourth ward.

The probabilities are that Thursday, October 10th, will be a fair day—in which case Janesville will see the largest republican meeting ever held in the state.

Mr. John M. Olin, of Madison, will speak at Lippin's hall this evening, in the interest of the prohibition party. Mr. Olin is a good speaker, and will undoubtedly have a good audience.

Hon. James Sutherland had a good republican audience at Hanover, where he delivered a splendid address. The republicans in that section are very enthusiastic, and will be in Janesville on next Thursday in full force.

Yesterday Mr. C. E. Langworthy sold his '84 crop of tobacco to New York parties, receiving 18 cents per pound. Mr. Adam Suemakers, of the town of Janesville, sold his '84 crop to the same parties at the same figures.

The Mutual Improvement club, of Janesville, meets at the parlors of All Souls church Friday afternoon, 10th inst., at 4 o'clock to elect officers. Program for examination. Work selected. All interested are cordially invited.

Mr. C. B. Hinkley has signified his appreciation of our city and its suburbs as the place for a permanent home, by purchasing yesterday of Mr. Chas. T. Shepard his "Grove Farm" of 80 acres, situated one half mile south of the Illinois Institute. The sale was effected by C. E. Bowles.

At a term of the Sheboygan county circuit court, September 22d, 1884, Judge N. S. Gilson presiding, a divorce was granted in the case of Esther M. Walker against William H. Walker, the plaintiff being given the custody of the child, and a judgment of alimony for the sum of $1,500. The defendant is a resident of this city.

The Farmers Mill, which has recently been removed to the foot of Dodge street, and received a thorough overhauling and repainting, was started up this morning, by the new lessees, Messrs. Tedy & McKee, who will continue the "feed" business at this place, and on November first will commence a general milling business, except wheat flour.

There was a rousing Blaine and Logan meeting in the La Prairie grange hall last evening, addressed by Major S. S. Rockwood, of the Recorder. At the close of Major Rockwood's address a Blaine and Logan club was organized. The club will attend the Janesville rally next Thursday with seventy-five to one hundred voters, and take part in the grand torch light parade.

Mr. L. S. Fellows, of Glenn street, 24 ward, brought into the Gazette office this morning, a cluster of strawberries and raspberries that speak well for a Wisconsin climate. The strawberries were large and ripe, and the raspberries about half grown. He also had a sample of potatoes, about the size of eggs, as the result of a second planting. Wisconsin will soon gain the reputation of a tropical state.

Harmony town hall was packed with republican voters last evening to listen to the able speeches by Messrs. Wilson Lane and W. A. Harrington, of this city. The republicans of Harmony are enthusiastic in their support of the plumed knight, and will be well represented in the grand demonstration in this city on the 16th, many of whom will join the horse brigade. A vote of thanks was tendered the speakers.

John M. Whitehead, Esq., of this city, addressed a large and enthusiastic republican meeting in Magnolia, last evening. Mr. Whitehead held the close attention of his large audience for two hours, with his able arguments in favor of the republican party and its candidates, and was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause. The republicans of Magnolia are beginning to warm up in enthusiasm, and will send large delegations to the Janesville meeting on next Thursday, on foot and on horseback, and add their quota to the grand procession of over five thousand men.

A large audience gathered in the opera house last evening to greet Maggie Mitchell in the play of "Little Savanee." The audience was an appreciative one, and from the first to the last of the comedy, sat in pleasant admiration of the wonderful acting of "Cora," the character assumed by Miss Mitchell, and frequently expressed their delight by loud and enthusiastic applause. Once before Miss Mitchell appeared before a Janesville audience, then as "Fanchon, the Cricket," when she was greeted with a full house, but we doubt if her reception was more cordial than last evening. The company supporting her is a good one, and we are pleased that our people accorded them so generous a reception and hope they will again visit our city.

The Milwaukee Sentinel, of yesterday, has the following item relating to the capture and return of A. H. Wilds, the horse-thief, whom Marshal McGinnis captured in this city: "Detective McGinnis did not bring A. H. Wilds, the horse-thief, back with him from Janesville, as he had intended. When the Milwaukee officer arrived at that place he found that his man had been given over to the custody of Deputy Sheriff Nelson, of Naukesha. Wilds was arrested by the Janesville authorities for stealing a span of horses belonging to A. L. Boynton of this city, and as the Naukesha officials had no charge against him, the local authorities are at a loss to understand why Deputy Sheriff Nelson went after him. The only reason that can be imagined is that the Naukesha officer wanted the $50 reward that was offered by Mr. Boynton for the recovery of the team." We were introduced to Mr. Boynton, when in this city, on Monday, and understood him to say that no reward had been offered. Therefore, the Naukesha officer must have been after something else.

MATRIMONIAL.

WETMORE-HUGGIN.

At ten o'clock this forenoon a party of about sixty relatives and intimate friends assembled at the residence of Mrs. J. V. Huggin, three miles south of the city, in the town of LaPrairie, to listen to and witness the pleasant ceremony which joined the lives and fortunes of Mr. Frank H. Wetmore, of Bradford, and Miss Carrie Huggin, as husband and wife. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. B. Jackson, of Emerald Grove. Miss Nellie Nye, of Beloit, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Minnie A. Doty, of Janesville, were the bridesmaids, and W. N. Huggin, of Spencer, Iowa, a brother of the bride, and J. Orde Craghton, of Beloit, the groomsmen. Miss Cora Austin, of Bradford, a cousin of the bride, playing the wedding march. At the conclusion of the happy ceremony, the party sat down to an elegant wedding breakfast. The bride is well known in our city where she has many warm friends in the society of young people, she being a graduate of our high school, class of '83, many of her classmates being present at the wedding festival to extend their heartiest congratulations and well wishes for prosperity in the new life now before her. The groom is a son of Mr. John Wetmore, a well-to-do farmer of Bradford, and is a young man who is popular among a very large circle of friends. The bride was the recipient of many very valuable presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore took the morning train for Chicago, where they will remain a few days prior to settling down in their new home.

October Weather.

Mansell's Planetary Storm and Signal for October, is just received. The editor Richard Mansell, of Rock Island, Illinois is now considered one of the most learned meteorologists in the country; his forecasting of the weather being considered the most reliable, formed upon the position of the planets, generally proving correct. The Signal is wholly devoted to what the editor calls "the new science." The October number has a well written article on "the cholera of 1884, how the times, the varying latitudes, and the undulations of these moving cholera epidemics have been forecasted, and the periods of their severity and less violent attacks were pointed out gauged by the anticipated force resulting from the positions of the planets during the cholera season," with a map showing "the north and south ranges of the cholera epidemic during the year 1884," and chart showing the positions of the planets on the 10th inst., accompanied with an article giving the "disturbing positions of the planets for October, and forecasting the weather for the month, an interesting editorial, "The Ocean Tidal Waves, as explained by the new system or theory of natural science, and the cause of their appearance through the universal reciprocation of forces," and another on "Sun spots." The Signal is an excellent publication, one that should be in the hands of all the people for the scientific information it contains.

The weather predictions for October are as follows:—

"Mercury in perihelion the 2d; Mercury in a longitudinal line with Saturn the 3d, and in a like line with Jupiter the 14th; also in line with Uranus the 22d. Venus is in a line with Saturn the 13th. The moon is eclipsed on the 4th, and the sun eclipsed the 18th. Venus is in ascending node the 11th, and Mars in descending node the 31st.

This principal planetary disturbing position for October are located from the 2d to the 7th, the 9th, the 13th and 14th, the 18th to 23d, and the 31st.

The worst storm and earth disturbing days should occur about the—

2d to 7th—Thursday to Tuesday.

9th—Thursday.

13th and 14th—Monday and Tuesday.

17th to 23d—Friday to Thursday.

21st—Friday.

REMARKS—October will probably average a cool, stormy month for its season, with a temperature likely below the mean. We expect to receive several hard storms or earth disturbances, both in the United States and Europe, on the above dates. Sun spots are expected to be numerous during this period.

The U. S. Signal Service will probably order located the most justifiable cautionary marine signals for the following dates: The 2d to 7th, the 13th and 14th, the 18th to 23d, and the 31st.

A poor man in Philadelphia, who had suffered terribly from rheumatism, borrowed a dollar with which he purchased a bottle of Allopurators. He tells the result as follows: "I took my first dose Tuesday afternoon, and on Wednesday, after but seven doses, I had not a sharp or severe ache left. I was able to be steady at work till Saturday, when I took a severe cold, and was unable to use my left hand. I purchased another bottle, and by bed-time I found relief."

The Burr Robbins Show.

The Burr Robbins circus and menagerie gave a show in this city Wednesday. Its street parade was large, and compared very favorably with those of shows of greater pretensions, everything being bright and in good condition, and the horses unusually fine. Both the afternoon and night exhibitions were well attended. The riding of Charles W. Fish was excellent, and that of Madame Mertha above the average. The Japanese juggler performed some astonishing tricks, and the acrobatic feats were free from coarseness, while its people were quiet and orderly at all times. It is a fine show and worthy the good patronage the circus gives public accord it—Fairfield (Janes) Ledger, of Sept. 24.

Borrowing Trouble.

"My boy, don't hesitate to borrow anything the neighbors will lend, but don't borrow trouble." Trouble is a legacy which the average mortal is permitted to inherit, and the supply is usually equal to the demand.

This fragment of advice was given to a boy in the second grand this morning, and was prompted by a conversation with the boy's mother at the breakfast table. The discussion was about as follows:—

"Look at our yard, all wet and soft after the rain last night, and not a stick of wood in the barn, or coal enough in the cellar to start a fire; now you will have a team driven in, and cut the grass all up, and we shall have mud all over the house."

The head of the family looked up over his coffee cup and said:—

"My dear, don't worry; we can sit out in the sun and keep warm, in a day or two; wood and coal are too expensive luxuries to have laying around loose; economy is a virtue which should be practiced in every well regulated family."

"Economy! you are a good one to talk economy, what was your cigar bill last month?"

"My dear, you should not be so personal in your remarks, you know I am obliged to smoke for a stomach difficulty. If I should be taken away what would become of you?"

"Yes, that would be a serious loss to the family, but you are so careless about everything but your stomach, that you are liable to smoke, and enjoy good health, after the rest of the family have been obliged to go south to keep warm."

A cord of wood and a ton of coal was seen going up the hill this afternoon, and the family are in the market now to borrow anything that offers in the way of trouble.
